FAYE PIGGOTT

Faye is looking forward to getting out of her current living situation. She currently lives in a 2 bed/2 bath apartment in Covington and is rent-burdened. When her grandchild and great-grand child visit, they have to sleep with her because there is no room for them to have their own space. Faye is from Bogalusa and has one son named Floyd. Floyd is 43 and suffers from MS and Faye struggles with back problems. Because of their ailments, walking up and down the apartment stairs has become dangerous. Among other reasons for leaving the apartment, Faye notes that her monthly payments will be less.

She and her son typically enjoy playing games and spending time outdoors

Faye has finished her ReStore sweat equity hours and has now moved to working on the construction sites. Faye enjoys working in the outdoors and is learning a lot from our dedicated construction crew. She says she's ready to get settled and start taking care of her plants and yard. When asked how her future home will change her life, Faye says "It will be mine, something I've dreamed of for a long time.

Also, my son is looking forward to having his own bedroom and bathroom."

Faye hopes that by moving into her new, affordable Habitat STW home, it will allow her to be able to save for a new car in the future.

Faye is involved in her community and church where she regularly attends and is motivated by God's will. She always thanks God for what she has and lives by the motto "treat others the way you want to be treated."
